Festive Food Friday at Goat Hill Museum Store on December 11

On Friday, December 11, the Goat Hill Museum Store at the State Capitol is hosting Festive Food Friday. This event is a celebration of Alabama food, and includes recipe tastings and cookbook signings by Alabama authors.

This Friday First Lady Patsy Riley will be in the shop from 10:00 – 12:00 signing her cookbook, When the Dinner Bell Rings at the Governor's Mansion. Mrs. Riley unveiled her cookbook in November and has since sold more than 10,000 copies.

More than 300 recipes are featured in the cookbook, with recipes from Mrs. Riley, friends, family, caterers, former U.S. first ladies and representatives from all 50 states make up the nearly 200 page cookbook.

Jean Gay Mussleman will be signing her book, Potluck, Postscripts, and Potpourri, from 10:00 – 3:00.

Also featured from 10:00 – 12:00 is author Sister Shubert's Cast Your Bread Upon the Waters

The last Festive Food Friday is on December 11. More information about this event is available at: www.preserveala.org/currentissues.aspx.

The Goat Hill Museum Store is located inside the State Capitol and visitors should enter through the Capitol's Union Street entrance.

To protect, preserve, and interpret Alabama's historic places is the mission of the Alabama Historical Commission, the State Historic Preservation Office.
